

HE'S A VETERAN OF TWO WARS.

Edward Fisher Unjustly Styled a Deserter by Uncle Sam.

A Prisoner in Mexico, He Didn't Get Home to Muster Out.

After having been twice wounded by bullets in the Mexican war and escaped all injury in the National disturbance of 1861-62, Edward Fisher, veteran, is confined to his bed with serious injuries resulting from a fall from his cat.

Fisher is a Canadian in the employ of Overton & Market, Broadway and Forty-first street. Two wars, is now in Washington in behalf of a bill to secure Fisher's honorable discharge as a soldier of the Mexican war.

Congressman Amos J. Cummings has passed to Congress in the session, and which it is thought will be passed without opposition by Congress.

Although Fisher served with credit in the struggle with Mexico, the War Department records bear opposite his name the word "Deserter." This is why the old veteran has been unable to get a pension for his services and injuries received during the Mexican war.

And yet, if his old comrades are to be believed, the Government records are wrong, and instead of being a deserter, Fisher was one of the bravest soldiers that ever fought under Uncle Sam's flag.

Thursday evening, while pursuing his vocation, Fisher received the injuries which now confine him to his bed, and which make the reasons why the record should be corrected and he be granted a pension all the more urgent.

Fisher had two fares from the Union League Club. He drove them to Fortieth street and Fifth avenue, where they alighted. Fisher drove on in Fifth street, where the front axle of his cab suddenly broke.

The driver was thrown violently to the hard stone pavement, striking on his right shoulder and grazing his right temple. He had been struck square in the back of the head.

He was picked up in a half-conscious condition, and taken to the hospital. There physicians dressed his wounds. He was removed to his home at 427 Eighth avenue.

When an EVENING WORLD reporter called on Fisher, he found him light-hearted and cheerful in spite of the accident which had been done him by the Government for nearly fifty years and the painful injuries he received.

The old veteran was much averse to giving details of his deeds of valor, although his old comrades Col. Kerrigan, prominent in the "one of the bravest soldiers that ever stood on a battle-field," and others, are anxious to give a few facts in regard to his career as a soldier.

He was born in Albany, N. Y., Oct. 28, 1828, and is therefore over sixty-three years old. All his life Fisher has worked with his hands, either as a truck driver, coachman, cabman or driver.

He was only eighteen years old when he enlisted as a soldier for the Mexican war. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers. He was sent to Vera Cruz, where he was with Fisher, who was then a private in the 10th New York Volunteers.

MAIL ROBBED IN THE STREET.

Highwaymen Hold Up a Carrier's Wagon in Chicago.

The Darling Robbers Secure About $6,000 in Currency.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 16.—The talk of the town today hinges upon the daring robbery of a United States mail wagon at a late hour last night by five masked men. The robbers are thought to have secured at least $6,000 in cash by the haul. In addition to this amount there is missing $200,000 worth of non-negotiable paper.

As yet no arrests have been made, and the police refuse to say what clues, if any, are in their possession.

The scene of the robbery was Madison street, near the intersection of Desplaines street. The wagon was en route to the main post-office, and was proceeding slowly. Suddenly out of an alley five men sprang.

Four of them covered Driver Creighton with revolvers, while the fifth grabbed the driver's head. Two then climbed to the driver's seat, and the other three, who had valued his life, to keep quiet, drew the team into a dark alley-way. Here the door of the wagon was broken in, and the highwaymen, hastily selecting the registered pouches from the rear, made good their escape.

This morning, on the north side and three miles from the scene of the robbery, the missing pouches, cut open but containing matter valueless to the robbers, were found.

Driver Creighton tells the story of the robbery, but says that he would be unable to identify any of the gang. The men, he says, kept their faces concealed and forced him into such a position on the seat that he was obliged to keep his face turned from them.

One of the men, according to Creighton, wore a cap with the visor pulled down over his eyes, and he wore a dark coat and a dark necktie.

Police Inspector Stewart refuses to admit this line of evidence, and says that the gang were fully aware of the value of the mail usually contained in the wagon driven by Creighton.

The last robbery of this kind occurred here nearly a year ago, and took place in the same neighborhood. The police have arrested several well-known crooks, who are being held on suspicion.

'TIS A HOWLING NOR'WESTER.

Wind Blowing 65 Miles an Hour Off Sandy Hook.

A northwest gale is howling across Printing House Square today, driving pedestrians before it, and filling their eyes with dust.

This is the windiest spot in New York, but the wind has blown all the way from thirty miles off shore, and is now blowing over the city ever since midnight.

At this afternoon a sixty-five knot cyclone from the west off Sandy Hook. Cautionary signals are out for a forty-two knot gale at Block Island and a stiff nor'wester all along the coast from latitude 38 to 42.

It is fortunate for shipping that the gale veered from southeast to northwest before it grew into such a fury, for an off-shore breeze is not dangerous to vessels.

As for weather, while the veering winds have kept the temperature at 40 degrees and above, and the clouds are clearing, the temperature is still falling, and with a prospect of freezing weather by tomorrow. A cold wave is said to be coming from the lake region, that will make cars and fingers tingle by Friday.

Tomorrow and next day, it is said at the Signal office, will be generally fair, with local snow squalls.

Friday reports 32-degree weather; Chicago, 30; Albany and Boston, 33; and Philadelphia, 34, while the mercury is 10 degrees below zero in Minnesota, where a small blizzard is raging.

NAVAL RESERVE AT THE BATTERY.

Park Commissioners Asked to Grant Castle Garden for an Armory.

Herbert L. Satterlee, President of the Naval Reserve Association presented to the Park Commissioners today a long petition asking that the Board allow the use of Castle Garden in Battery Park for an armory for the Naval Reserve Battalion, which was mustered into the National Guard in 1890.

He said that if the petition is granted, the building would be used for the purpose of a free museum to be established in the garden.

The petition and take action at an early date. President Satterlee and Commissioner Dana are both members of the National Guard, and it is considered possible that the Board may act favorably on the petition.

TWO AMBULANCES CALLED.

Mrs. Alice Mahoney Needed One and Driver Walker the Other.

Two ambulance calls took two Chambers Street ambulances to the Battery park at 1.15 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Alice Mahoney, aged fifty-five, of 46 Washington street, was found suffering from injuries received in alighting from a Broadway car, and Henry Walker, of Bay Ridge, had tumbled off his truck and sustained a broken leg.

Both were taken to the hospital.

CHARITY WITHOUT A LICENSE.

It Led to the Arrest of the Conductor of a Concert.

Moses D. Gottlieb, a musician, of 182 Henry street, was a prisoner in the Essex Market Court today. He had got up a concert for charitable purposes. It was under way last night in the Hebrew Institute, East Broadway and Jefferson street, when Policeman Holzman, of the Seventh Precinct called to inquire if the necessary license had been obtained.

He sent for Gottlieb, but the latter refused to come. He was arrested, and the police proceeded to arrest him, having learned that Gottlieb had not secured the required license.

Gottlieb was discharged, Gottlieb, with a warning, and imposed a fine of $5 upon Rabbi Brodsky. Later the fine was remitted.

ROASTED COWS AND HORSES.

Ten Animals Burned in Long Island City Stable.

Long Island City stable on Hallett street, Long Island City, was destroyed by fire at 1 o'clock this morning.

Eight cows and two horses perished in the flames. The loss was about $1,000, partially insured. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Re sure and one Mrs. Winklow's Booting batter for your children while looking. 20c.

SPORTING NOTES AND NEWS.

Possibilities of a Match Between Suno and Nancy Hanks.

Corbett May Agree to Meet the Irish Champion To-Morrow Night.

Horsemen are talking about the possibility of a match race next season between Robert Bonner's great filly Suno and J. Malcolm Forbes's wonderful filly Nancy Hanks. The latter has a record of 300, and there are those who think she is the superior of the sensational Etonian filly. It is understood that Mr. Forbes is not unwilling to trot Nancy Hanks against Suno, while Mr. Bonner thinks it too early to talk about such a match until it is known whether the pair will be fit for race next year.

As it is well known that Mr. Bonner will not trot his horses for money, Mr. Forbes says that he will consent to trot for charity, the entire gate receipts to go to such charities as he and Mr. Bonner might agree upon.

The meeting between these two would be the biggest trotting event the world has known, and it is considered by horsemen the only way to settle the question of superiority.

The annual report of the Manhattan Athletic Club is a voluminous document, and while some of its members complain that parts of it might have been made more intelligible, especially the reference to expenditures on Manhattan Field for the Thanksgiving Day football game, the report is very interesting. It shows that the management is very sensitive about criticism.

It may serve as an excellent campaign document for the "reform" element. If judiciously analyzed it is not unlikely to add considerable voting strength to the opposition. For the election to be held Dec. 28 from 8 to 10 p. m. President Carr has appointed as tellers Messrs. W. S. Bagge, M. H. Ekin, A. E. Frosting, H. H. Carter, and J. R. Kett.

Treasurer Storm's report shows that the profits of the various departments for the fiscal year were $3,000.

Rilly Madden says the show at Madison square garden to-morrow night will be the first of the kind in New York. It is just possible that Jim Corbett may meet Peter Maher after his fight with John Barrymore and the "Fighting" Maher may decide that it is worth his while to go on, as Madden has promised to give him half the receipts.

Mitchell may arrive in time for the exhibition, and if they do some live business may be expected. Billy Lacey, Mike Cronin, George Wright, and other good sparrers will be at the show.

Jim Pilkington, a well-known member of the Manhattan A. C., and Jack Elliott, of Peabody, will shoot at 100 king birds for a $100 prize at Madison square garden to-morrow afternoon, Dec. 22. The rules of the American Shooting Association will govern the contest, which will be an interesting one.

The Kendalls, when they open their new theatre in London, have announced their intention of presenting the play "The Last Days of Pompeii" by Clyde Fitch that was produced here by the members of the Y. M. C. A. company. Anybody who wants to read Madge and Willie a Christmas card will find the Kendalls' address at 100 West 10th street, New York.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

TALK OF THE STAGE WORLD.

Indisposition Is Epidemic Among Theatrical People.

Will S. Rising's New Farce, "Tangled Up," Scores a Success.

Theatrical people just now seem to be suffering from an epidemic of indisposition. Thomas O. Seabrook, of "The Cad," is still laid up with his knee, and Manager Floyd said yesterday that he would not be able to appear until Saturday, when the plaster cast is to be removed from his leg. Monday night just before the curtain was to go up Mr. Floyd was notified that Miss Ruth Carpenter, of "The Cad," company, was laid up with pneumonia. He had to find a substitute. Charles Reed, of "Hos and Hos," has been seriously ill for a long time, and Elsie Shannon, of the Lyceum Theatre, has missed many performances of "Lady Hamilton."

Hart, of Hallen and Hart, as already told, has been victimized by a toe, and the sad case of young Becker, of Harrigan's, has been pretty widely discussed. Miss Albani has been under the weather for some time, and Januscheck is ill and Modjeska has been seriously laid up. Fanny Davenport has successfully ward off a quinsy, and throat, some of the symptoms of which prevented her playing some time ago. Langtry, in England, declares that she is ill, and though nobody believes it, she is entitled to the benefit of the doubt.

Lastly, a large number of managers feel sick at heart, and with bad business and discouragement. It is a case of wait-till-the-clouds-roll-by-Magic.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons, who is to appear at Palmer's Theatre to-morrow afternoon in "What a Woman," is manager hunting. She says that such and such a manager is connected with her domestic life (as in the case of the illustrious Fanny Kemble)—it is no joke to have those unhappy circumstances as happy as circumstances.

Major Bond is to bring out a new lecturer called "Painstaking," the artist who was discovered by Max O'Reil, and who excelled the political cartoons that made such a sensation in "The New York Herald" and "The New York Tribune." His lecture will be called "Painstaking," and he will be in the house for the evening. He is a native of Romania, and his cousin is the much photographed young woman, Miss Varasco, who nearly became Queen of Romania.

Ben Stern was in town yesterday. He says that Fanny Davenport is better and is playing as usual. She is still devoting herself entirely to "Cleopatra." He only engagement in New York this season will be in Harlem.

"Cinderella," it is said, will not go on the Broadway stage. Where, if it is to be successful, it will get a long run.

The Kendalls, when they open their new theatre in London, have announced their intention of presenting the play "The Last Days of Pompeii" by Clyde Fitch that was produced here by the members of the Y. M. C. A. company. Anybody who wants to read Madge and Willie a Christmas card will find the Kendalls' address at 100 West 10th street, New York.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who was Mrs. Kendall's leading lady before she got the Kendalls, is playing the part of Anne in "The Last Days of Pompeii" at the Kendalls. She is a daughter of the late Frederick Vanbrugh, of the Kendalls, and has been for a long time in the Kendalls' company.

Frank Dupree says that his opera, "King Calico," will positively be seen next May at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where, if it is successful, it will get a long run.

An English writer asserts that it takes a run of one hundred nights to pay for the up-bultery in an English play. What kind of a play will pay for the up-bultery in this kind of a country? The writer would say that the up-bultery in this kind of a country is not a thing to be trifled with.

Lambert Bros.
COR. 58th ST. & 3d AVE.
MANUFACTURING JEWELERS AND IMPORTERS.
A SPLENDID HOLIDAY PRESENT.

WE HAVE PLACED ON SALE 5,000 SOLID GOLD INITIAL RINGS OF OUR OWN MAKE, WHICH EXCEL ANYTHING ON THE MARKET AS REGARDS QUALITY, PRICE AND WORKMANSHIP. THEY ARE SOLD BY US AT THE LOWEST POSSIBLE MANUFACTURER'S PRICES.

THE ABOVE RINGS CAN ALSO BE HAD WITH ANY DESIRED EMBLEM, SUCH AS MASONIC, ODD FELLOWS, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, KNIGHTS OF HONOR, &c., &c.

ORDERS BY MAIL PROMPTLY EXECUTED. SEND FOR CATALOGUE. OPEN EVENINGS.

LAMBERT BROS., Cor. 58th St. and 3d Ave.

A BRILLIANT EXECUTION. FROM THE WORLD OF LABOR.

The Steamfitters' Helpers' Union will elect